Winemaker Notes:

2020 tried to smoke us and '21 tried to roast us, '22 tried to freeze us, and '23 was a vintage delayed — budbreak occurred in the last week of April almost 5 weeks behind. Luckily, the rest of the season was beautiful and the vines caught back up with veraison being within the average range and harvest starting in early September.

Fruited and savory on the nose with lanolin and white and yellow flowers, granny smith apples, asian pears, and tangerines. There's some almond nougat, honey, along with yellow plums and peach skin on the palate with great acid to tie up the finish.
